port was deferred as a means of holding off the deadlock. This report announced that it was impossible to reach a unanimous agreement among the members regarding the contents of the preamble to the newly proposed convention to regulate the activities of the Pan-American Union.

In the mean time the committee considered the individual articles of the convention regarding which the submmittee had obtained accord. The delay thus interposed in debate on the preamble was felt to offer an opportunity which might lead to the dis ery of a formula which would accommodate the Argentine contention that Pan-Americanism tends toward abolition of excessive tar'ff barriers and which also would be pleasing to the other delegations which are all solidly against Argentina in this particular Attempt by Fess to Restrict Limitation to "Elective" Terms Fails, 73 to 5.

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

By a vote of 56 to 25 the Senate yesterday adopted the LaFollette resolution giving it as the sense of that body that Presidents should retire from office "after their second term." It did it, after Senator LaFollette had agreed to the withdrawal of the clause commending President Coolidge for observing the tradition because the President had been so represented by his friends in the Senate that the commendation was not deserved.

Senator LaFollette had shown by a previous vote of 52 to 27 that he could pass the resolution in its original form but when Senator Fess, of Ohio, fighting the measure to the last ditch, offered an amendment to strike out the commendatory clause the Wisconsin senator immediately agreed over the protest of others, that the commendation was out of place. He had accepted the President's "choose" and supplemental statement as being conclusive. he said, insisting that with the understanding he sincerely inserted the commendatory clause. The respondents, through Charles A. Douglas, Fred Morgan, Col. Martin W. Question Stricken Out.

The Government, through James J. O'Leary, assistant United States district attorney, argued that such testimony was in the first place irrelevant, and, moreover, if the Government had engaged in such shadowing, and it was nevertheless unlawful, it would not serve to lessen the present offense, since the respondents would seek then, in effect, to advance a plea of ignorance of the law which was not sound in law. As to the plea that the evidence should be taken as a mitigating circumstance, Mr. O'Leary contended that the time for such a matter was after a finding of guilty had been reached The court has yet to hear the closing argument of George P. Draft on Mrs. White.

Col. Davis, according to the dispatch, was under the impression the draft was for $200 gold, but when it was presented at the American Oriental Bank of Shanghai it was found to be for $3,200. The bank is said to have paid the sum, only to have the draft protested. Col. Davis is now in a hospital at Manila.

Mrs. White is the widow of the late United States Supreme Court justice, Edward D. White, and is Gibson's aunt dibson himself is the son of the late enator Gibson, of Louisiana. He served with distinction in the British am-bulance corps and the marines during the war. His present wife represents a fourth marriage. The course which will probably be pursued in the case will be to take the matter up with the Attorney General and wire the American consul at Victoria, who will take the necessary steps to insure his arrest by the local authorities. These authorities would hold Gibson until extradition papers had been made out so that he might be returned to Shanghai.

Gibson was born here in 1879. He attended private schools here and at the age of 15 went to New York. He attended Fordham College, later going to Yale, where he became widely known as an athlete and a student. After leaving Yale Gibson gained fame as a playwriter and entered the newspaper profession, working here and in Chleago.

An appeal to the State Supreme Court from the jury's verdict would be based principally on Judge Trabucco's failure to instruct the jurors that they might recommend leniency if they wished, Attorney Walsh revealed. Oklahoma City, Feb. 10 (A.P.).—The Oklahoma Supreme Court today frowned upon the showing of motion pictures of William Edward Hickman, convicted slayer of little Marian Parker, of Los Angeles. The court refused to grant a writ of prohibition against District Judge Orel Busby, of Pontotoc County, who had issued an injunction against the showing of the picture at an Ada Theater.

The injunction was obtained by the Ada Parent-Teacher Association and the mayor.

The pictures were purported to show the pursuit and capture of Parents Paren the pursuit and capture of Hickman and scenes in the prison cell.

Rebel Warns That American Officials' Lives Are No Longer Safe.

Defense Attorneys Jerome Walsh and Richard Cantillon based their declaration on an agreement in court yesterday to ignore the usual rule that arguments for a new trial must be heard within 48 hours after a verdict is returned and, instead, present their arguments Tuesday.

This agreement, said the defense lawyers, may prevent the court from passing sentence upon Hickman, which Judge J. J. Trabucco set for tomorrow, until the motion for the new trial has been disposed of.

An opinion was sought tonight from Judge Trabucco on the statement of the defense that the sentencing of the slayer should be delayed.

Meanwhile Hickman in his jail cell unconcernedly awaited the hour of sentencing.

"I'll be ready for it tomorrow," the slayer said. He was not in the joking mood he was yesterday after the jury's yerdict had been returned.

"It hasn't got me scared any," asserted Hickman. "I won't grow gray hairs because someone passes a death sentence."

Lying back in his cell bunk, his hands under his head, the slayer asked for "more, all the details."

After the interview he thanked his visitors for the information.

Hickman awakened in his county fail cell at 7 o'clock this morning after what his guards described as a sound sieep. Special wardens have been placed over him to prevent a possible attempt at suicide.

Mayor George Cryer, chairman of the committee in charge of disposition of the reward offered for the capture of Hickman, announced that distribution of the money would be decided upon in a few days.

WARS FOR LEAGUE UPHELD IN REPORT

Aggressive Conflicts Must Be Abolished, However, in Experts' View.

REGIONAL PACTS URGED TO AID PEACE MOVEMENT

Constant Improvement in the Council Methods to Fix Blame Is Seen.

Geneva, Switzerland, Feb. 10 (A.P.) Aggressive war must be outlawed, but war for legitimate defense in the application of the covenant of the League of Nations or in the execution of a league decision is justifiable in the view of a committee of noted experts who today presented a report on the means of the promotion of international security. OFFERS TERMS OF PEACE

Managua, Nicaragua, Feb. 10 (A.P.).—
The possibility of armed developments national security.

The committee's recommendations have aroused special interest because of the recent American initiative looking toward the outlawing of war and the new treaty just signed between the United States and France.

Steady Improvement Seen. The report advocated negotiation of regional pacts of nonaggression among the nations in the same geographical area, but declared that if these pacts are to constitute elements in a general system of security, they must be linked up with one another and bear a coherent relationship with the league covenant.

What is deemed to be of special interest, however, is the committee's opinion that international disputes are becoming more and more caught in the network of measures for the prevention of war and that there is constant improvement in the methods of stant improvement in the methods of the league council to maintain peace "so that resort to war without respon-sibility for such a step being mani-fested to the whole world becomes in-creasingly difficult to imagine."

Public Debates Upheld.

Declaring that before the existence of the League of Nations, national points of view were virtually the only ones of which the public had cognizance in times of international crises, the committee asserts that the effect of holding the council's debates in public is that all viewpoints become better known and that the peace recommendations of the council furnished the public of all countries a means of forming a judgment, thus tending to force the governments in dispute to a pacific settlement.

Hailing the league covenant as a pillar of international peace, the committee urges nations which think that the covenant provides Inadequate security to negotiate special or regional agreements of arbitration, conciliation, security and pacts of nonaggression. Declaring that before the existence of

MILK IS SAFER THAN ICE CREAM.

TO turn a milk supply from a liquid milk market into butter and ice cream is to add somewhat to the danger to the public health. As a rule, the production and marketing of liquid milk is more carefully regulated than is the case with the other forms of milk products. The age at which butter its sold and the refrigeration to which the acidity of sour cream, from milk products. The age at which butter its sold and the refrigeration to which much of the butter is made, was not sufficient to kill disease-producing bacteria. The same was true of the salities of the butter, and of the temperature at which it was kept in storage and of its age before it was marketed. CHILDREN AND ELDERS.

A FRIEND of mine has lately been talking to me about her way of bringing up her children, and to mention it in the column.

She thinks, as I do, that from the beginning little children should be brought in contact with their eiders. Not shown off, nor encouraged to make themselves too conspicuous, but allowed to associate with older quite as much as with younger people. Children who take part in family life are pleasanter companions, as they grow up, than this society of other children of their own age. Of course, a little depends upon the family life. But if the father and mother are intelligent they will make family life agreeable and the younger members will not feel that to be at home is to be bored.

I remember with pleasure, today, games of different kinds played by the Stows out 2 Assistant 13 Siceveless garment of Arabia 14 Lowest linked with a sense of pride in the companionship of our eiders which was a precious possession to us.

In addition to recipes for this menu we shall, if we have space, have a formula for sweet potato pie which may come in handy either for this Sunday, in place of our old friend butterscotch or at a later date. And how about a bit of ham a la Mexican for dispertible evening. dinner this evening?

Baker Rice With Tomatoes.

Baker Rice With Tomatoes.

Take one cupful of boiled rice, seasoned with butter, pepper and salt. Slice tomatoes thinly and put in a baking dish in layers of first rice and then tomatoes (it may, of course, require more than a cupful of rice to a family, depending upon the number to be served.) Over the top of the last layer sprinkle a layer of cracker crumbs and dot over with butter. Do not add moisture as that will be supplied by the tomatoes. Bake for about fifteen or twenty minutes. Serve at once.

Caramel Custard. 3 cupfuls milk. 1 cupful sugar (browned).

1 cupful sugar ...
3 eggs.
Pinch of sait.
1 teaspoonful vanilla.
Beat eggs and add to other ingredients; mix well and bake in a pan of water in a very slow oven until it sets. To test, insert a silver case knife and withdraw it at once. If the custard is done, the knife will come out clean.

Sweet Potato Pie.

11/2 cupfuls boiled and mashed sweet otato.

2-3 cupful brown sugar. 2- ggs. Piece of butter the size of a walnut. 1½ cupfuls milk.½ teaspoonful lemon extract.

With a normal oreak in trumps and a Queen or even * Nine of Diamonds in the partner's hand, all that would be lost would be two Diamonds and one Club, and or course neither the Queen nor Nine of Diamonds would justify the partner in jumping. That is the important point which must be decided in distermining whether to make the game-going bid. It is whether there is any 'easonable chance that the comdefeat; but such loss would be mos game-going bid. It is whether there is any easonable chance that the combined hands will produce game and yet, with a bid of three, the partner will sot have the requisite strength for the final jump.

Another hand will nelp to illustrate the subtest

Again we have a hand which might fall far short of game. It might lose at least one trump, four Diamouds and one Club, which would be at least three under contract; but any such result would be most abnormal. If the trumps drop as is probable, game can be made with merely the slightest Diamond help from the partner. A Queen or even a Ten, would produce the result; and there are other possible combinations with which the partner would not be strong enough to jump but with which the combined hands would produce game. In such cases it pays to risk bidding too high rather than disk : failure to make game when it is not combined hands. In conclusion, an example of a Minor game-going bid is given:

THE CURE.

I've stood about when Old Troubl came my way. I've stood and looked at the wreckage of the day.

I've stood around
For an hour or two and frowned,
I've muttered bitter things and grumbled at my fate

But time was flying by
While I lingered there to sigh,
And I learned that for a whiner the minutes never wait.

I've stood and whimpered when disaster came to me.

But the wreckage still was lying there for every one to see,

Not a stick jumped out of line
To the music of my whine,
By my wailings and my sobblings not a single stone was moved,
And the morning slipped away
But my trouble chose to stay,
And the hardships I was facing there were not a bit improved.

Oh, it hurts to get a spill and a man must wall it out,
But get busy while you're grieving and don't idly stand about,
For Old Trouble can't be downed
By a man who mopes around;
Howsoever he may grumble still the wreckage will remain.
So don't waste a single day,
Clear the shattered hopes away,
For the only cure for losses is to get to work again.

It is noticeable that the resolution reads "after their second term." President Coolidge's friends, while fighting for three days against the resolution as a whole, and against parts of it in particular, insisted that he will not have had two terms next March. The resolution makes no reference to two terms, however, but says retirement should come "after their second term." Senator Fess' last effort was to have the words "unpatriotic and fraught with peril to our free institutions" stricker out, but he was voted down without a roll cail. So was Senator Bingbam when he sought to make the resolution read that it would be all right for the President to continue serving in "grave emergencies."

The vote came at the end of three days' debate, all of it revolving around President Coolidge. The President's friends, of whom it was Senator Norris' thought that the President should be delivered from, contended that the resolution was nothing but a political gesture Borah States His View.

very little English. Surely she would be surrounded with some of the worldly goods she had brought from Budapest. The English setting, the American garbed girl, were out of character.

We sipped English tea, ate French pastry and talked of Troy. The only reminder of Hungary was the tongue of Maria Corda, herself, born and bred near Budapest, and a recent arrival in America from there.

Helen of Troy has been about the most talked-of role in Hollywood. Ever since First National bought the Erskine book with the idea of making it into a screen play the query of who would play the title role has been prevalent. Of course, an untold number of stars hoped they might be chosen.

When the great assignment day arrived the part was awarded to Maria Corda, but recently arrived from foreign shores. Not a Greek, Roman or Sicillan maiden, but a Hungarlan who looked the part.

about playing Helen on the screen?" I queried.

"Oh, yes. It is a very good part. I like the character of Helen very much. I have known her always—since I was a little girl in Budapest, where I studied mythology. I feel it a great honor to bring her to the screen."

She has an unusual and mystic charm. Her Helen will be something distinctive. She is ideally suited to the role of the classical maiden. She is above the average height, is slender and artistic. Her face is oval, her nose Grecian, her mouth fragile. Her eyes are her most prominent feature, being large and blue and paradozal.

Prior to her screen work she appeared with a ballet in Budapest. vith a ballet in Budapest

DISTRICT DAY IN CONGRESS.

Although the District Commissioners and the House committee on the District of Columbia have reported favorably upon the location of the farmers' market in Southwest Washington, it is evident that an attempt is on foot to postpone action by Congress at this session in the hope that another site may be eventually selected. "District day" has been repeatedly postponed in the House and that latest tentative date fixed for consideration of District legislation is now February 27. But the unnecessary postponements indicate only too clearly that further delay is contemplated. Besides the farmers' market item other District matters await consideration. Among these are the new insurance code, the proposed change in the law regarding inheritances and distribution of estates, the enactment of uniform legislation in regard to liability for breaches of fiduciary obligations, the policewomen's bill, the proposed new child labor law and other matters which are entitled to a hearing.

The District of Columbia should not be made the victim of political maneuvers by legislators who happen to hold strategic positions in Congress. Let every proposition be settled on ts merits. The attempt to deprive the District of its day in Congress is an injury to the entire opulation and a detriment to the development ! the Capital. The House leaders should fix day for considering District legislation and ould refuse to lend themselves to schemes preventing Congress from acting upon ading legislation.

For many months chemin the employ of the bureau have been rimenting with various nauseous drugs for purpose of producing a denaturant of such onous character as to produce in the confeer all possible poisonous symptoms with-commissioner Doran, elated with the results these researches by his chemists, is now dy to announce that the object sought has en found. In fact, there are six of them, y one of which, while not increasing the calities credited to bootleg liquor drinking. ill produce in the drinker a desire for imediate death as a relief from the stomachic oubles which will agitate his domestic econmy. The names of the ingredients in themserves should be enough to accomplish the bject of the enforcement officers. They include butyl alcohol, butyl-acetate, amyl-alcohol, amyl-acetate, toluol and xyol,

These denaturants are not poison, but are colorless liquids with such pungent odors, according to Commissioner Doran, that the smell should warn any person against drinking them, and if the smell fails the taste will settle it. Let the thirsty have but one sniff, and his desire to violate the prohibition law will evaporate—until some other chemist in the employ of the Bootleggers Trust discovers another neutralizer.

RAILROAD RATES.

Ant there is a decided difference of opinion between the Senate and the Interstate Com merce Commission as to the proper exercise of the power to make railroad rates is conarmed by the vote by which the Senate passed the resolution of inquiry on Thursday. That esolution calls upon the commission to advise he Senate how far it has been influenced in rate making by a desire to adjust different conomic and geographic conditions in various ctions of the country. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 68 to 1.

The resolution also requests the commission o cite the section of the law or the Constituion which gives it authority to attempt such diustment. Senator Bruce, of Maryland, who cast the only vote against the resolution, thought that to ask the commission such nestions was a reflection upon that body, but o other senator shared the views of the Maryland senator.

The action of the Senate was based upon merous complaints and memorials which Lificate that there is a widespread belief that the Interstate Commerce Commission has eneavored in making rates to overcome eco omic laws and geographic conditions in order favor railroads less well situated than cometing lines, thereby assuming a power not ntemplated by the Constitution or by the terstate commerce act, or any of the numers amendments thereto.

Unfortunately, however, the resolution calls or so much in the way of an answer from the commission that it is doubtful if half a dozen members of the Senate will have the time or inclination to peruse the documents which the commission is directed to submit to the Senate. These include "copies of all relief. decisions handed down by it in the five years the decisions as to the reasonableness of any rate or rates was in any sense influenced by the competitive advantage or disadvantage of the producers in one State, district or section as compared with the disadvantage of the producers in another State, district or section.'

For the last five years or more producers, dealers and manufacturers of all sorts of commodities have complained that the commission has apparently been guided in its rate making more by a desire to minimize the advantages of competition between carriers than by actual conditions of mileage and the like. Among those who have been loudest in their complaints are producers of live stock, cotton

THE ASS BRAYS.

By a majority composed mostly of Democrats and insurgent Republicans the Senate has solemnly passed a resolution declaring against a third term for any President. This mongrel majority failed to declare its opposition to the election of any regular Republican to the Presidency. Hence it was guilty of cowardice. When the supreme opportunity came it faltered and fell down.

The country is yet to hear from the Squashown Baseball Club, the Amalgamated Order of Hoohoos, the Sons of Galilee, the Occoquan Chamber of Commerce, and the Garment Makers' Union on this great and burning issue. They have as much right as the Senate to decide this question, and their word will carry just as much weight with the proletariat.

OBSCENITY BY RADIO.

The difficulties attending regulation of the radio industry are illustrated by the public protest that has arisen against the broadcasting of a filthy lecture on "companionate marriage" by an Englishwoman. The blunder of the radio managers in permitting the distribution of this stuff into American homes is an indication that the radio broadcasting business is in for the bitter experience that taught the motion picture industry such a wholesome lesson. The American public will not stand for obscenity sugar-coated with false pretense of "frankness" and "courageous discussion of pressing problems." When decadent foreign purveyors of filth are given opportunity to misuse the radio the broadcasting companies responsible for this poisoning of the air will discover that there is a censorship power in public opinion that is more effective than law.

No one favors a censorship of law, and none is necessary. But there must be supervision of radio programs, so that ignorant and evilminded agents of the radio companies will not insult the public. The companies have this matter in their own control. They can wreck their business or build it up, according to the manner in which they adjust themselves to public sentiment. The motion picture producers, after heavy losses, swept out the individuals who contended that what Americans demanded was obscenity. The industry censored its productions just in time to escape a whirlwind of popular resentment. Now it is up to the broadcasting companies to profit by this example or take the consequences.

YOUNG MEN AS LAWBREAKERS.

According to the records of the superintendent of the criminal law bureau of the Common Pleas Court of Cleveland, unmarried native-born youths between the ages of 18 and 21 figured higher in the records of arrest during the past year than persons of any other age. While the tide of lawbreaking reaches apex at those ages, Mr. Boutall adds that the majority of murders are committed by married men at about the age of 24. The largest percentage of men put to death in penitentiaries where electrocution is employed is between the ages of 24 and 25. It would seem then that the murderers of early manhood are recruited from the perpetrators of lesser crimes. This showing, which does not run counter to similar statistics which have appeared from time to time, may be viewed from various angles, but a remedy for the condition is hard to prescribe. Later marriage may have something to do with the situation as it exists. This tendency has been deplored. When young men become habitu ated to a life of crime, marriage does not turn them away from evil. With persons whose moral stability has been lost in youth, the tendency to run into a life of crime seems to be demonstrated.

Anything that may contribute to normal living and normal relationships in youth ought to be invoked to offset the tendency toward early vice and crime. The State provides at great expense a public school system, the object of which is to train youth for the sober responsibilities of life and to equip it for seeking its awards. However, the surge of young men to the colleges is vastly disturbing to college executives, who question whether the acquirement of a college diploma as necessary for eniployment other than manual is an unmixed good. The unabsorbed element which does not obtain or does not want college training is left to figure out a livelihood against the odds presented by their presumably better equipped fellows.

Lack of systematic early schooling is almost certainly a factor in promoting crime. Hence, a community that deprives young people of elementary school facilities is for tering crime. Congress might well ponder this phase of the subject in dealing with the shortage of school facilities in Washington.

TRAFFIC CONGESTION PLANS.

Relief for traffic congestion continues to receive major attention, not only in the United States but throughout the world. In London, Paris, Berlin and all large cities, both here and abroad, traffic congestion has come to be a pressing problem.

Various schemes for its alleviation are being experimented with. The most general remedy lies in the creation of express highways, over which vehicles can be led from congested areas at comparatively high rates of speed, usually controlled by automatic signal systems. Chicago and other cities have banned parking in certain areas and some relief apparently is to be had from this quarter. In New York, however, where American traffic congestion reaches its peak, signal lights and parking bans have been outgrown, and traffic engineers have begun to look to other schemes for further in New York has been under discussion. This week it was brought before the board of estimate in the form of a projected elevated express highway connecting West Seventysecond street with Canal. Objection was raised because the pillars supporting such a highway would in all probability serve to obstruct street-level traffic in the area it served. Final action on the project was postponed until next week, when further information will be presented as to the amount of street space the supporting pillars will occupy.

For several years a program looking toward

In Paris another solution for traffic congestion has been put forward. Several weeks ago the prefect of police issued a statement to the effect that the 4,000,000 population of 1925 will have become, if the present trend continues, 8,000,000 by 1970, and probably 1,000,000,000 by the year 2000. To care for the greater traffic such population will bring. M. Bernard Gervaise suggests enlargement of the street area by doing away with first floors of buildings bordering busy thoroughfares, and replacing the masonry with supporting pillars between which vehicles might pass freely.

As between elevated express highways and the French scheme, in one respect at least, the advantage seems to lie with the latter. An elevated roadway can only go from one place to another. With a highway area unrestricted by curb or building lines the old phrase "as a crow flies" could be replaced with the saying "as traffic goes."

LET THE LAW BE MODERATED.

Mrs. Mary Lee Bishop, of Detroit, has the great misfortune to find herself in jail. The law, of course, had to be enforced, and since she shot and killed another woman, there was little that the judge could do but sentence her to life imprisonment. The circumstances surrounding the case were so unusual, however, that one is inclined to wonder what may be in store for the rest of the world.

Mrs. Bishop whipped out her gun and shot during a bridge game. The bullet found its mark against her partner, who had played the wrong card not once, but twice. What bridge player has not found himself in this position, having to strain every nerve to resist the impulse to do murder? Trumping a partner's ace once in an evening is bad enough. The thought remains for hours and the memory of the points that were lost through the misplay rankles. A double error of this sort is calculated to add such fuel to the smoldering flames of resentment that one does not wonder at the course of action adopted by Mrs. Bishop.

The bridge-playing world would do well to reflect over the case at length. Since the courts have decided not to permit the wrong card to serve as justification for homicide it is obvious that bridge players must undertake the task of reforming the courts.

A SEVENTEENTH CENTURY DIARY.

The announcement that the Council of the Medical Society of London has decided to sell its most precious literary possession, the unpublished autograph manuscript of the diary of Rev. John Ward, vicar of Stratford-on-Avon, has set book collectors and lovers of the curious and the antique all agog. The manuscript will be put up for sale at auction in April next. Rev. Mr. Ward lived from 1629 to 1681 and his diary covers the period from 1648 to 1679. It consists of sixteen thick little pocket books, every page of which is crowded with very numerous and very varied notes and comments on men, things and events. Like many rural clergymen of his own and later times, Rev. Mr. Ward was a good deal of a physician, and his time was about equally taken up with the cure of bodies and the care of souls. The diary is not a medical book, but it contains much loose and some accurate information on medical subjects, hence its ownership by the medical

It is, however, the notes on other topics that give this diary its peculiar interest. Nothing was too great, nothing too small, for the Stratford-on-Avon vicar to jot down and comment upon. He delights in detailing his gossin with all sorts and conditions of people and these entries are not only amusing sometimes but also highly valuable, because they give an insight into contemporary opinions and modes of thought. The diary covers a wide field. Not its least interesting feature is that it offers plain evidence of the extensive tendency to copy out such passages as appealed to him.

Ward's entries about Shakespeare and Shakespeare's friends are numerous. Thus, he tells us that Shakespeare's allowance for two plays a year was so large that he spent at the rate of £1,000 a year. He also informs us how the great playwright came by his death:

Shakespear, Drayton and Ben Jhonson had a merry meeting, and itt seems drank too hard, for Shakesnes died of a feavour there contracted.

Ward also saw Ben's play, "The Alchymist," acted and awards it high praise. He also gives us this peculiar piece of pathological information:

Dr Convers dissected a person not long since, that died for love in London; and they found (at least as they fancied) the impression of a made upon his heart.

The quaintness and originality of this manuscript make it a thing highly to be desired by collectors, and there will probably be spirited competition for its possession.

HICKMAN'S CASE.

The jury verdict finding William Edward Hickman sane does not end this hideous case. Under California's new murder law the plea "not guilty by reason of insanity" constituted a legal admission that he had committed the offenses charged. It therefore became the jury's duty only to decide upon Hickman's sanity, and today the trial justice will pronounce sentence. Judge Trabucco has said: "You can rest assured that this defendant will be given all the law allows." Hickman's attorneys, however, have announced that they will appeal immediately on "the legality of the entire proceedings and the constitutionality of the new California law," under which the "not guilty by reason of insanity" plea was entered. In addition they will file a motion for a new trial. Furthermore, Hickman stands indicted for another killing, and this second trial also may require his presence.

Poor little Marian Parker lies dead and buried, and the fiend Hickman, her admitted murderer, insolently calls upon legal strategy and technicality in an attempt to prolong his worthless life. Every day's failure to dispatch preceding the first day of April, 1928, in which the construction of elevated express highways this creature is a crime against law and society.

DISTRICT FIREWORKS RULES ARE DRAFTED

Tentative Approval Given by Commissioners to Newly Revised Regulations.

Revised Regulations.

A new regulation more definitely stating which fireworks may and which may not be sold or discharged in the District was tentatively adopted yesterday by the Commissioners and referred to the Citizens Advisory Council, the Board of Trade. Chamber of Commerce and Merchants & Manufacturers Association for comment before being finally promulgated. The regulation was drafted after consultation with representatives of fireworks manufacturers, and an effort is being made to have it adopted in final form in time to advise the manufacturers what fireworks they may offer for sale locally.

Washingtonians may buy and set off sparklers, torches, box fire, fountains, clip sticks, nonpoisonous snake, colored lights, toy pistols of the friction type and toy pistols of automatic type, if the new rule is adopted. It will forbid firecrackers of any kind, torpedoes, roman candles, skyrockets, devil chasers, son-of-a-guns, bombs or any other fireworks which contain powder or explosive material.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 10 (A.P.).—Almost two score men were trapped by fire in the Hollinger mine at Timmins today and as the rescue work went forward, their wives and children waited at the shaft end, weeping and praying. Four bodies were brought out, but several hours after the fire broke out in excavations 550 feet underground rescue crews had not yet been able to reach the place where 31 more miners were believed to be imprisoned, their escape, if they were still alive, cut off by fumes from the fire.

$25,000 Sought in Suit.

The Southern Sales Co., Inc., Duryea Building, filed suit yesterday in Circuit Court against the Canada Dry Ginger Ale Co., a Virginia corporation, to recover $25,000 damages for alleged breach of contract which, it is alleged, gave one W. F. Holtman the exclusive right to sell the defendant's product in the District, Maryland, Virginia, and West Virginia. Holtzman assigned his rights in the contract to the plaintiff, it is asserted. Attorneys Peyser, Edelin & Peyser appeared for the plaintiff.

Under the terms of Howard's resolution the Federal Government would pay the expenses of the veterans who attended the reunion. Howard estimates that between 4,000 and 7,000 Veterans would come here.

Congress is sympathetic with the needs of the District schools, Representative Frank Murphy, of Ohio, last night told members of the Stuart Home and School Association, at a meeting in celebration of the thirty-first anniversary of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the first anniversary of the completion of Stuart Junior High. Critics of Congress, Murphy declared, have served in the past to prejudice the case of District schoels on Capitol Hill.

Students of the school, wearing Parent-Teacher Association colors, gave an historical pageant, outlining the progress of the organization since it was founded in Washington, 31 years ago. There was an address by Claus Schwartz, principal of the school, who declared a strong home and school association, faculty, and student body, the greatest assets of any educational institutions. Clothed in colonial costume, Mary Davis, Mary Dunenhower, Ruth Collinsworth and Evelyn Smith, gave a dance number.

These trips into the shaft were of necessity of short duration, as the smoke and gas was dense.

Rescue operations, were abandoned this afternoon when efforts to reach the imprisoned men, with the limited equipment on hand failed. It was decided to await the arrival of the mine rescue car being sent from Pennsylvania and expected at noon tomorrow.

Blast and Fire At Long Beach.

Long Beach, Calif., Feb. 10 (A.P.).—An explosion in an oil refinery absorption plant at Thirty-second and Atlantic streets, inside the city limits, rocked a considerable section of Long Beach early today and started a fire which resulted in serious injury to one man and the destruction of four oil derricks.

The blast occurred in the plant of the Signal Gas Co. Sheets of fame shot hundreds of feet into the air.

Ray Thompson, of Belleflower, near here, was on watch at the time. He was badly burned about the head and arms and was reported in serious condition at a hospital.

Six derricks were ignited but two were saved.

The loss was estimated by officials of several oil companies affected as $100,000.

what they said, and none save perhaps themselves knows just what passed between them.

An hour before the ceremony of the keys this morning, Lindbergh had received the gold medal of the Havana province, presented him by Gov. Ynclan, who told him that all Havana thanked him for the honor of his visit, and hoped that he might find his stay pleasant, to which Lindbergh replied that it had been one of the most pleasant experiences of his life and one he would always remember.

The medal presentation took place in a room in the state department quarters that had been the conference room of Spanish and Cuban governors. Assembled in it were a hundred or more representing the clite of Cuban officialdom and society. Outside, the throngs awaited the reappearance of the filer, of whom they had seen only a little as he entered, the official party pausing just a moment at the threshold of the building.

Lindbergh was all smiles but it was only for his hosts and the Cuban people as a whole that he brightened. A group of Cuban beauties who thrust themselves to the front for what crumbs of the man's bounty of favors he might bestow upon them had their trouble for nothing, it seemed. The filer passed them without so much as a glance.

It is Lindbergh's plan to leave Havana at dawn Monday, flying directly to St. Louis ir one of the longest nonstop adventures of his entire PanAmerican tour.

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, Feb. 10.—The stock market was decidedly irregular today, but came through much better than might have been expected in view of such various bearish developments as an advance in the call money rate to 4½ per cent, a smaller gain in the United States Steel Corporation's unfilled tonnage than had been expected, an advance in brokers loans and a considerable amount of week-end profit taking. Am rance in brokers loans and a consider-able amount of week-end profit taking. Trading actively dropped sharply against Thursday, the turnover approximating 1,266,000 shares. Twenty-six stocks touched new high price levels for the year or more, and six made new lows. Losses of 1 to 5 points were numerous throughout the list, outnumbering net advances.

The United States Steel Corporation announced that its unfilled orders had increased by 303,000 tons. This was not as large as had been generally expected and had little effect on Steel shares, but was regarded as an unfavorable development hy many traders in other divisions of the list and was of considerable assistance to traders for the feeling. From the aparticle way, the siderable assistance to traders for the decline. From the apathetic way in which Steel shares moved it was surmised that the tonnage development had been anticipated. All of the losses in the group were below a point, that in United States Steel common being $5\cup$6 of a point.

AS TRADING FALLS OFF

Buying Continues to Be Cautious-Foreign Issues in Fair Demand.

FEDERAL GROUP IS DULL

New York, Feb. 10 (A.P.).-Trading in the bond market fell off sharply to-day, but prices showed a firm under-Buying continued to be cautious day, but prices showed a firm underine. Buying continued to be cautious, partly as a result of the recent influx of new offerings. Indications were that the current week will record second highest aggregate of the year, with new issues exceeding $150,000,000 following more than $202,000,000 last week.

Practically no change was recorded in the time money market, and the advance yesterday in the Kansas City rediscount rate was regarded as only another indication that the 4 per cent level will soon have been established by the entire Pederal Reserve System. The Atlanta rate was increased after the market closed today, but the 3½ figure was maintained at Cleveland.

Prompt oversubscription of the $20,000,000 Standard Oil of Indiana 4½s was new evidence of the readiness with which new issues are being received.
Much of the reinvestment demand this year has been gravitating toward the trarket for new bonds, largely because of the current high prices and the consquent low yield of listed mortgages.

Buying continued in moderate proportions in the foreign group. Italian municipals today furnished the chief interest, Rome 6½s reaching a new top for the year and Milan 6½s duplicating their previous 1928 high. A few Italian lindustrials also reflected a fair demand, but French obligations were quieter than in recent sessions.

Pathe Exchange 7s, which dropped from 77½ to around 50 earlier in the week, recovered 4% points of their loss, Sugar issues, which also have been weak, showed rallying tendencies, and there was further buying of a few cop-week. recovered 4% points of their loss. Sugar issues, which also have been weak, showed rallying tendencies, and there was further buying of a few copper bonds and some issues which ordinarily are inactive. Only fractional changes were recorded by railway and utility issues of a strictly investment.

United States Government obligations were steady but extremely dull.

New York, Feb. 10 (A.P.).—Bullish speculative interests made careful selections in the curb market today, and favored issues made advances despite general weakness of the list. Early in the day buying was active and prices were rising, but later movements became limited and cautious. Industrials and utilities were irregular and oils showed further weakness.

Buying by Western speculators made Deere & Co. a feature, the issue shooting up 12 points net, to a new high at 275. American Department Store advanced about 2 points, to a new high at 1895. Gobel set another new high record with a small gain, and A. G. Spalding rose 4 boints, to a new high at 149. Recent favorites lost ground, among them American Rolling Mills, Atlas Plywood, Bancitaly, Campbell Wysone Steel & Wire. Large early gains brovided strength for Peoples Drug Stores, Safeway Stores, Sanitary Grocers and Lehigh Coal & Navigation.

The utilities moved within narrow limits and chiefly downward, although United Gas Improvement made a gain of nearly 3 points on reports of sale of Southern proprettes to American Commonwealths Power Corporation.

Gulf's 4-point drop to a new low at 103 was outstanding among the depressed oil stocks, most of which moved downward with smaller losses. The pipe lines also sagged.

Shattuck Den and Hudson Bay mining and smelting made small gains, but the usual feature of the mining issues, New Mont, had an irregular day, opening at 169, rising a bit, dropping to 167 and closing at 170.

Harvard Eleven Plays

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 10 (AP.).—Will-lam T. Tilden 2d, of Philadelphia, America's premier tennis star and mainstay of the Davis Cup Team for the last eight years, made a valiant plea today at the annual meeting of the National Lawn Tennis Association for the selection of two United States net teams to carry the country's colors in the quest to regain the Davis Cup.

"Now that the United States has decided to play through the American to play at Wimble-don, St. Cloud and other continental centres.

James C. Stewart, of Chicago, was relected president of the Western Association, while Harry S. Knox and Walter T. Hayes, both of Chicago, were respectively.

The district associations of Central Illinois and Wisconsin were admitted to the Western net body. Approval of the national officers are on schedule tomorrow. The team wins on the United States soli it will be required to go to Europe and play in the interzone finals immediately, which would jeopardize our chances of winning back the cup from France."

Tilden's plea is an outgrowth of his plan to go to Europe in April, with Francis T. Hunter, prospective second ranking American to play at Wimble Adams, Radice in Starring Roles.

Invader Is Unable to Hold Lead; Blames Soft Track.

By CHARLES W. DUNKLEY (Associated Press Sports Writer.)

R IDING CLUB, CHICAGO, Feb, 10 (A.P.).—Dr. Otto Peltzer, the fa-mous German runner, met his master in Ray Conger, former Iowa

the tape by 10 yards in 2:37. Conger is champlon miler of the Missouri Valley Conference.

It was the German champion's first defeat since his invasion of America. Ray Dodge, of the Illinois A. C., who lost to Peltzer in New York a week ago, later accusing the German of elbowing him on the turns, finished third, about 2 yards back of Dr. Peltzer, with Leo Larrivee, of the Chicago A. A., fourth. Conger ran under the colors of the Illinois A. C. tonight.

The time was much slower than the world's indoor record of 2:26 2-5 made by Lloyd Hahn, of the Boston A. A. last year. This was attributed to the soft dirt track, which held too much moisture to make it fast; the sharp turns and short straightaways. The track was ten laps to the mile, and was cuppy and wavy in spots.

Conger, rated as one of the outstanding runners in America, won the race by coming from belind in the last lap after Larrivee had set the pace for three laps.

The tall German, fleetest half miler in the world, and holder of four other world marks, started out leisurely in the lead, followed in order by Dodge, Conger and Larri-vee. The same order was held at the end of the first lap.

In the second lap, Latrivee sprinted into the lead with Dodge second, Peitzer third, and Conger trailing.

Dodge jumped into the lead at the end of the third lap, with the German holding second place, with Larrivee third and Conger fourth. Then the big bertha of the German cinder paths made a desperate bid to get out in front. He succeeded, holding it until the end of the fifth lap, followed by Dodge, Conger and Larrivee.

With half a lap to go, Conger, running two yards behind the German and Dodge, made a supreme effort in the final dash to the wire, overtaking the German, pushing into the lead and drew away from his every step, with the capacity crowl of 5,000 cheering in the excitement of the German's defeat. As Conger shot ahead of him, Peltzer, seemingly all arms and legs, lowered his head and exerted every ounce of reserve strength in his six-foot frame in his effort to catch the Iowan, but his challenge was fruitless.

The German was crushed by his can races. "I have nothing to say except to congratulate Mr. Conger," ficials. Peltzer blamed his showing on the soft track and sharp turns.

Conger's victory rewarded him with a emendous, stirring ovation. The specators swarmed out of their seats and rushed around him, extending congratulations. Then the crowd turned its sympathy to the defeated German and sought to console him.

The German brushed their sympathetic remarks away with a smile and a wave of his hand, expressing the hope that he might meet Conger in another Loser Battles With Dislocated Shoulder After 3d Round.

By EDWARD J. NEIL,

(Associate Press Sports Writer.).

ADISON Square Garden, New York. Feb. 10 (A.P.).—Tony Canzoneri, tiny featherweight, who once blacked shoes on the wharves of New Orleans, tonight donned the purple of champions after a 15-round battle with Benny Bass, buildog of Philadelphia.

Rarely has the huge garden, packed to the very eaves, seen such a display of cleverness, speed and punching power as the 21-year-old New Yorker summoned to stave off the rush of the thrashing bodypuncher. Never was such a gathering of fans treated to more dogged exhibition of grit and stamina and courage than Benny Bass summoned in the final stages of his despairing bid for the title.

For ten of the fifteen rounds, Canzoneri slashed the bunchy-muscled Pennsylvanian with solid drives to the head and body. Cooly, with the skill of a master, Tony stalked about his slower opponent, beat him consistently to the punch, and almost closed Bass' left eye.

A volley of left and right hooks to the jaw sent Bass reeling in the third session and as he straight-ened up Canzoneri floored him with a crashing right to the chin.

Bass took a count of eight and was on the closing five rounds that nearly turned the fight to the Pennsylvanian, when the injury was discovered.

As early as the eighth round, Bass, repeatedly warned for low punches that the crowd believed intentional, began to strike his stride. His smashing right hand caught Canzoneri flush on the chin and Tony smiled. Again in the chin and Tony smiled. Again in the hinth, beautifully timed left and right hooks to the chin spun the New Yorker around, but he continued to pile uppoints.

Gradually the head smashing and vi-Gradually the head smashing and victous slashing to the body slowed Tony, apparently more than he realized. In the final five rounds, Bass, a raging tearing midget crammed with dynamite in either hand, hammered Conzoneriabout the ring. Tony was almost out in the tenth and reeling in both the eleventh and twelfth sessions. A sharpright hook gashed Canzoneri's left eyelid in the thirteenth. From George Lott Chicago, Feb. 10 (A.P.).—William T. Tilden 2d, of Philadelphia, defeated George M. Throughout the last two rounds Bass piled in, ramming a steady stream of belts to Canzoneri's midesection. Tony met him at his own game and managed to pull the title out of the fire of an assault that nearly wheel out the margin of the earlier rounds.

Canzoneri succeeds to the title vacated by Kid Kaplan, of Meriden, Conn., over a year ago. His victories over Johnny Dundee, champion before Kaplan, Bud Taylor and a host of lesser featherweights, gained him the New York State Athletic Commission choice for the title. Bass was the nominee of the National Boxing Association, ruling body in 26 States, through victory last September over Red Chapman, of Boston. Born, Baltimore, Md., December 23, September over Red Chapman, of Boston.

Bass cut loose at a furious pace in the first round, ripping into Tony with short, driving hooks to the body. Canzoneri stepped about cooly, finding the range. A heavy right to the chin stung the Italian, but Tony opened up toward the close of the second session with a bilstering body barrage.

Canzoneri warmed up to his task in the third and sunk Bass for a colut of eight which the bell interrupted. A series of short left and right hooks to the chin did the damage.

Bass' left eye was slowly closing as he came out for the fourth and into a storm of punches. Canzoneri stepped about him calmly and kept the Phirdelphian constantly befuddled with sharp hooks to the chin. Bass held constantly in the fifth, slugging his heavy right to close quarters wherever gossible. Tony took his time, planting his punches carefull/ and cleanly.

Hardly breathing heavy. Canzonert punched Bass around in the sixth like a master boxer taking strenuous measures with an unruly pupil. Bass waveered but refused to go down.

a master boxer taking strenuous measures with an unruly pupil. Bass warened but refused to go down. Bass began punching low in the seventh. Fouls so obvious that the referee twice warned him and the crowd roared in darking derision.

Infuriated at the fouls, Canzonert betted Bass steadily in the eighth. The Philadelphian parked one vicious right swing on Tony's chin, but without effect. As Bass wavered under a smashing volley to the head in the ninth he shot a right so far below the waistline that the fans read his intent and hooted steadily. The referee motioned one steadily.

After wavering again in the tenth, Bass suddenly shot a left and right-to Canzonerl's chin that sent the New Yorker reeling into the ropes. Badly hurt, Tony recled through the remainder of the round and was out on his feet, with fistabursting on his chin when the belt rang.

The eleventh was a mad session, with Canzoneri slugging toe to toe with his heavier-hitting rival. Both were weary Black Friar, Caught in Webbing, Is Second; Be Still Third.

Junior's Nurse Beats Favorite to Take Sixth Race.

Fair Grounds, New Orleans, La., Feb. 10 (A.P.).—The Royal Stable's Blessefield, under Earl Pool's husting ride, scored in the St. Tammany Purse, feature of the card, here today. His victory was largely due to Pool's efforts in beating the gate. Black Friar was second and Be Still third. As usual, one or two of the contestants in the fourth race were caught in the barrier and their wuning chances ruined. Blessefield a fractious actor at the barrie got way flying and Pool let him step along. Meanwhile, Be Still and Black Friar were caught in the webbing. When they got clear, Blessefield was so far in front that it seemed almost impossible to run him down. However, he began thring and Pool rode him out to win by a length and a half. Black Friar took the place by a head. Flora Levy won the baby race, first on the card, and stepped the half-mile in 0:474-5.

She was pounds the best, and when settled in her stride ran away from the field and won galloping. Flora Levy rushed into the lead, but ran out on the turn. She recovered quickly and drew away to win by three lengths. Miss Moonlight held on long enough to save the place by a length from Mazzie. The latter went in the air at the start.

Senator Seth, with Deprema in the saddle and well played, won the second event, a 6-furlong sprint, leading home the good thing, Stormy Port, with Madcap Princess third. Stormy Port Jumped away to a fast lead, but before a furlong had been covered fenator Seth rushed into the lead, saved ground all the way and won 'n I a drive by a length, while Stormy Port took the place by half a length from Madcap Princess.

Because of a poorly judged ride, Queena Mario, well played, went down to defeat in the third event, when we we reglanced to the inside in the stretch, and Pool, on Delphi, stole up on the rail and gained the purse in a hard drive by half a length.

Queena Mario was second and Sir Barley third. Queena Mario was leading at the furlong pole by a length, and Long kept looking on the outside, and when he saw Delphi on the inside it was too late.

Delphi won by half a length.

Colonel Board, with Pool up, scored in a romp in the fifth. It made three winners for the veteran jockey. Dr Cardenas was second and A. B. Bensinger third Colonel Board was knocked back after the start, but closed fast, took the lead in the stretch and won by two lengths, Dr. Cardenas took the place by a length and a half.

Junior's Nurse, paying a long price, was winner of the sixth race, defeating the odds-on favorite, Billy Witt, with Open Hand third. Grange cut out the early running, but at the far turn Billy Witt took the lead and in the stretch Junior's Nurse came along and won going away by half a length. Billy Wittess second by three lengths from Open Hand.

With defeat almost completely environmental in the final period and twice during the fierce melee between players of the two teams Central was threatened with the loss of two of its stars. Burgess, the first to be injured, was thrown to the floor after a wild leap for the ball, and lay stunned for an instant, but refused to leave the game. A few seconds later, in much the same manner, Nelson Colley hit the floor with a resounding thud. Colley was undoubtedly able to continue, but enjoying a big lead, Coach Coggins relieved him, Castell taking his place.

Tech scored 7 of its 19 points in the last quarter, but Central, scenningly without undue effort, found the net for 14 points. Burch and Burgess counted most of the

Sangor's Blow Legal Illinois Body Rules

Canzone III., Feb. 10 (A.P.)—No evidence of a foul was found to-day when Buddy Taylor, bantam-weight champion, appeared before the Illinois State Athletic Commission for investigation of claims of an illegal blow which unsatisfactorily terminated his battle last night with Joey Sangor, of Muwaukee.

The commission, represented by its chairman, Paul Prehn, heard several witnesses, including Taylor and his manager, Eddie Lorg, but after the examination, Prehn asserted the referreds and Judges' vote giving the decision to Sangor on a technical knockout in seven rounds would stand.

Two physicians, one representing the commission, examined Taylor, but could find no swelling, discoloration or mark of a blow on the spot where Taylor claimed Sangor's gloved first landed.

The referce, Phil, Collins, testified the blow appeared to him as fair, and one of the judges. Edward Klein, was of the same opinion. The other judge admitted he was in no position to determine where the blow landed.

was waning, so he locked heads and terms through the fourteenth on even terms with the Philadelphia buildog. The crowd literally stood in its chairs as the youngsters smashed to head and body without a letup through the fifteenth. Tony ripped clearly to the head short joiting hooks, but Basiliummered tellingly to the ribs.

The main office of the Royal Madrid Brigandage Association, is situated near a haunted castle in the mountains of Spain, the castle belonging to the Duke of Santa Cruz, a Spanish grandee with a charming ward, Dolores, It is the Duke's purpose to keep all her sultors at a distance, particularly Aivarado, baritone of the Madrid Opers, who has enchanted the young lady with a serenade. The Duke can only indentify Aivarado by this serenade. Around these facts the operetta is developed and brought to a happy glose.

Lincoln.

How Abraham Lincoln equipped himself for his job as President will be one of the topics discussed by Fannie Hurst when she is interviewed from station WOR at 8 o'clock. Miss Hurst's new book, "A President Is Born," has recently attracted much attention.

A little bit later in the evening, 10 o'clock, the same station will present Mrs. Nelson Todd, who is said to have known John Wilkes Booth and saw the Lincoln tragedy in Ford's Theater. Mrs. Todd is 88 years old and will also bring first-hand impressions of Andrew Jackson, William Henry Harrison, Henry Biggest Coll Spring.

Bristol, Conn.—A coil spring 400 feel long, which required one mile of straight wire to fabricate, was turned out in a local factory. Workmen a few feet apart handled the wire to prevent it from buckling as the coil came from the fabricating machine. To feed the machine, wire was carried from a third-story window down through the factory yard and into the machine room.

NUMAN NATURE IS A STRANGE THING. AFTER LOWELL HENSHAW CHEATED, LIED, COMMITTED A ROBBERY AND LEFT WINNIE IN A POSITION WHERE SHE MIGHT HAVE BEEN ACCUSED OF HIS NEFARIOUS WORK DOES WINNIE REALLY HATE HIM? SHE THINKS SHE DOES, BUT THE TRUTH IS, SHE SUBCONSCIOUSLY LOVES HIM AND HER INSTINCT IS TO FORGINE HIM AND TO TRY TO MAKE DEFENSES FOR HIS CONDUCT. ROY LEIGHTON, A SWEET, CLEAN BOY.

WHO LOVES WINNIE AND WHO SAVED HER FROM BEING FALSELY CONVICTED AND TO WHOM WINNIE IS DEEPLY INDEBTED - GETS IN RETURN FOR HIS LOVE, ONLY A FEELING OF FRIENDLY GRATITUDE FROM WINNIE SUCH IS HUMAN NATURE - that investigation or the one into the Pennsylvania bituminous mining situation.

Phillip Murray is Witness.

Action by the Interstate Commerce Committee on the Johnson resolution went over primarily because Senator Sackett (Republican), Kentucky, wants to be heard on the amendment by Senator Reed (Republican), Pennsylvania, for an investigation into the freight rate charges on coal.

Senator Johnson (Republican), California, its author, explained to the committee earlier in the day that although he previously had agreed to accept this amendment, he did not want to press it as it would retard rather than facilitate the investigation he proposes.

DEPUTIES, MISSING WITH 2 PRISONERS, SOUGHT FOR VAINLY

Clews to Indiana Officials and Captives, Who Vanished Tuesday, Useless.

Lafavette, Ind., Feb. 10 (A.P.) .arch for two deputy sheriffs and cept this amendment, he did not want to press it as it would retard rather than facilitate the investigation he proposes.

Phillip Murray, international vice president of the United Mine Workers of America, was the only witness before the committee. He described the "pittable conditions" among the mine workers, complained of the operation of injunctions, assailed Gov. Fisher of Pennsylvania, and charged a "conspiracy" by the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, and the New York Central railroads to break coal prices and the miners' union.

Murray's story was listened to attentively by the committee as well as by operators from the strike district.

Several radio stations also broadcase descriptions.

The deputies, John P. Grove and Wallace McClure, started for Pendleton four days ago with the prisoners, Samuel Baxter and John Burns, handcuffed in the tonneau of their automobile. Nothing has been heard from them since, except a report that the two nicts were in Danville, Ill., Tuesday afternoon, visiting an aunt of Burns.

by operators from the strike district. who did not ask to be heard. Chairman Watson explaining that they realized a case had been made out for the adoption of the resolution.

Names Coal Companies.

Murray complained particularly of the Pittsburgh Coal Co., which, he said, had started the trouble by abrogating the Jacksonville wage agreement. He mentioned that R. B. Melion, brother of Secretary Melion, was a director of the company.

With respect to Gov. Fisher, Murray said miners "unfortunately" felt there was some connection between the governor's former association with the Clearfield Bituminous Coal Co. and his administration. # Of Vexed Roman Question Mussolini Anxious to Find Way to Arouse Pope's Liberty and Independence—Fundamental Issues Reported Settled-Pontiff Said to Seek U.S. Opinion.

Editor's note—Solution of the "Roman question," involving the relationship between the Vatican and the Italian government since the end of temporal power in 1870, looms as a probability of the near future. Progress of the negotiations is told in the following article by Salvatore Cortest; for the past 25 years correspondent of the Associated Press in Rome.

Quirinal into the royal residence of the new King of United Italy, may be remembered throughout the centuries as contrasted to that of Premier Mussolini as one who brought about conciliation between church and state. Above them will tower two popes—Pius IX, who by his celebrated "non possumus" ("We are not able") rendered impossible for nearly 60 years not only an understanding, but even a modus vivendi between Quirinal and Vatican, and the present pontifi, who, after about six years of negotiation, study and deep reflection, has decided to give religious peace to Italy, the seat of the papacy, and assuage the anxiety of the Catholic world concerning the status of the head of the church in the Eternal City.

Concillation Is Taken Up.

The ter. Water in the quarries was frozen to o.gr. and there were no tracks along the edge.

Little importance was attached to a report today from Chicago that a hand-cuff, filed through and bent, had been found in the rear of a South Chicago police station garage. It was pointed out that the men apparently had discarded the handcuffs before reaching Danville.

A rumor emanating from Frankfort Ind., said Grove and McClure, the deputies, had been tied to a tree in some isolated spot between Lafayette and Indianapolis. An investigation by Sheriff Johnston failed to uncover definite information.

Baxter and Burns. each about 20 years old, had been found guilty of robbing a store last December at West Point, near here, and sentenced to 5 to 21 years each at the Pendleton Reformatory. Burns previously had served a sentence at the Pontiac (Ills.) Reformancy. After his release two years are in the recoverage of the Concillation is traken Up.

S8 years, exceed 2.000,000,000 gold lires (approximately $400,000,000). Adding to this sum what the Vatican claims for confiscation and occupation of church property, Italy's debt reaches so many billions that it is impossible to contemplate the payment in a lump sum. Means will have to be found to bring it within the range of possibility, such as spreading it over a long period, instead of paying cast down.

Tax Appeals Board Called Into Court

The Board of Tax Appeals was cited yesterday by Justice Stafford in Circuit Court to appear February 24 to show cause why a writ of mandamus should not issue to compel it to enter judgment by default against the Federal Government in an income tax controversy involving the Shults Bread Co., of New York, which contends that a deficiency assessment, involving more than $500,000, should be cancelled.

Through Attorneys Sullivan, Garrity & Cooper, the bread company says that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue allowed the time allotted the Government to answer the appeal of the commenuted the time allotted the Govern-ment to answer the appeal of the com-pany to expire, and that the extension of time granted for this purpose is illegal and beyond the power of the board.
